THE POLARIS.

END AND FAILURE OF THE GREAT ARCTIC EXPEDITION—THE NORTH POLE ALMOST WITHIN SIGHT—DEATH OF THE HEROIC HALL—THRILLING NARRATIVE OF ARCTIC ADVENTURE—ONE HUNDRED AND NINETY DAYS ON A FLOE—DRIFTING FIFTEEN HUNDRED MILES.

[From the N. Y. Herald]

The country will hear with feelings of the most painful interest the melancholy tidings of the misadventure of the Polaris, the failure of the last great Arctic expedition and the loss of its heroic commander, Captain C. F. Hall, along with, probably, a portion of his crew. It is almost two years since the Polaris left the port of New York on her voyage of discovery to the North Pole, and "never," in the words of her commander, "was an Arctic expedition more completely fitted out." The Polaris was prepared for her great work with an unparalleled degree of care and foresight. She wanted for nothing. All that art and science could provide was furnished, and she set sail under a greater variety of auspicious circumstances than perhaps ever blessed the start of any similar enterprise. Sad to say, she may never return, and the work she undertook to do must be tried over again. From the Herald correspondent at Bay Roberts, Newfoundland, we have received the following dispatches concerning the sorrowful ending to the brave mission of Captain C. F. Hall:

BAY ROBERTS, via ST. JOHNS, N. F.
May 9, 1873.

The steamer Walrus arrived from the seal fishery at the port of St. Johns this morning bringing news that the steamer Tigress had come into Bay Roberts, eighteen miles from here, having on board nineteen survivors of Hall's Arctic expedition.

The Herald correspondent, who was one of the first to learn the important intelligence, immediately started to Bay Roberts to learn the full particulars. The Tigress was at anchor and the rescued men were assembled on deck. They furnished the Herald correspondent with the

DEEPLY THRILLING NARRATIVE

Of the adventures of the expedition, the death of Captain Hall and the final escape of the survivors who were taken off from an iceberg by the Tigress on the 30th of April last, in latitude 53° 30', after having spent 196 days on the floe. The following are the names of the rescued:

LIST OF NAMES.

DRIVEN FROM THE POLARIS.

This party, which had been landed from the Polaris, were driven from her by a gale which burst her moorings on the 15th October, 1872, in latitude 72° 35'.

LAST SIGHT OF THE POLARIS.

When they last saw the Polaris she was under steam and canvas, making for a harbor on the east side of Northumberland Island.

She had no boats left of the six which she brought with her from the port of New York. Two were lost in a northern expedition, two were landed on the ice with Captain Tyson's party, one was burnt as firewood to make water for the crew, and the other is on board the Tigress.

The Polaris was in command of Captain Buddington, who had thirteen of a crew along with him, and a plentiful stock of provisions.

She was making a good deal of water, but, as Captain Tyson informed the Herald correspondent, she was not more leaky than when he was on board all the previous fall and winter.

HER BOW DAMAGED.

Her bow was somewhat damaged, and it is the opinion of the survivors they will be unable to get clear until July, and even then, if the ship is unseaworthy, they should have to make new boats to effect an escape.

DEATH OF THE HEROIC HALL.

On the 8th of October, 1871, in latitude 83 38, longitude 61 44, Captain Hall died of apoplexy, and was buried on shore, where they erected a wooden cross to mark his grave. He had recently returned from a northern sledge expedition, in which he had attained the latitude of 82 16. He seemed in his usual health, and had called the crew into the cabin to encourage them with hopes of future rewards and stimulate them to renewed exertion, when he was suddenly struck down and expired, to the great grief of those around, to whom he had endeared himself by his kindness and devotion.

ADVENTURES OF THE SURVIVORS.

In September, 1871, the Polaris entered winter quarters, and left August 12, 1872. The ice was very heavy, and set in a southern direction. She was forced south, and so continued drifting till Captain Tyson and party were driven from her.

The sledge party crossed Kane's Polar Sea, which they pronounced to be a strait about fifteen miles wide. There was an appearance of open water to the north. The rescued party suffered very much during their dreary drift from hunger and cold. For the last two months they ate raw seal and polar bear, as they could get it. When

MET BY THE TIGRESS

They showed evident signs of their great sufferings, but during the nine days they have been on board they have improved vastly and are now in fair health. The party is in charge of the United States Consul and will arrive in St. Johns on Monday next.

STATEMENT OF CAPTAIN TYSON.

The following statement was furnished the Herald correspondent by Captain Tyson:

"On the 24th of August, 1871, we left Tessinsack, and went though Smith's Sound. We succeeded in getting as far north as 82° 16', when we returned and wintered at Polaris Bay, latitude 81° 38', longitude 61° 44'. We were frozen up until the 5th of September. On the 10th of October, Captain Hall started on a sledge journey north, and returned on the 24th, when he was taken sick and died on the 8th of November. He was buried on the 11th. The attack that carried him off was said to be apoplexy. We passed the winter at Polaris Bay. On the 8th of June, 1872, we attempted to reach the north with two boats. We hauled our other boat on shore and returned overland on the 8th of July. We started for home on the 12th of August, and on the 15th were beset with ice in latitude 80° 2'. We drifted from there down to 77° 35', when we encountered a heavy southwest gale, the ship being under heavy pressure. On the night of the 15th we commenced landing provisions, &c., on the ice.

THE VESSEL BEING REPORTED LEAKING

Very badly at times. We continued landing provisions for two or three hours, when the pressure ceased. I went on board the vessel and asked the sailing master if the vessel was making any more water than usual. He reported that she was not. I then went to the pumps and ascertained that she was not making any more than she was doing all summer.

BREAKING OF THE ICE.

I went on the ice again and shortly after it began to crack, and in a few minutes afterwards broke in many pieces. The vessel broke from her fastenings and was soon

LOST TO SIGHT IN THE DARKNESS AND STORM.

On the broken ice were most of our provisions to sustain the party through the winter, and seeing nothing of the vessel, we attempted to reach the shore, in hopes of finding natives to assist us in living through the winter. Getting about half way to the shore with our heavily laden boats, our progress became hard by the drifting ice, and I was compelled to haul on the ice again.

PROVISIONS SAVED.

At this time I succeeded in saving 14 cans of pemmican, 1½ bags of bread, 10 dozen one and two pound cans of meat and soup, 14 hams, one small bag of chocolate, weighing 20 pounds; some musk ox skins, a few blankets, a number of rifles and abundant ammunition. In the morning, knowing that I had

NOT PROVISIONS ENOUGH

And other articles of food, clothing, compass, etc. On the abatement of the gale I endeavored to shoot as many seals as possible, both for food, light and fuel, but could only get three, owing to bad weather having set in. I supposed the wind to be about southwest. On its clearing up I found myself within about eight miles of what I supposed to be the east coast, and about thirty or forty miles below the ship. The ice being weak, I could not transport boats and provisions to land until it grew stronger. While here I discovered my other boat, bread, etc., and saved all. The

ICE GREW FIRM.

I made another attempt to reach the shore, carrying everything in the boats and dragging them on their keel. The ice being exceedingly rough we stove both boats. We succeeded on the 1st of November in getting about half way to shore. Night came on us and very stormy weather. In the morning the ice was broken and we drifted southward very fast. We saw no more land for many days, bad weather continuing all through the month of November. We built snow houses and made ourselves as comfortable as we could. We were ten white men, two Esquimaux, two women and five children in all. We succeeded in killing a few seals, which furnished us with light and fuel with which to warm our scanty allowance of food through the darkness of the Arctic winter. In the latter part of February we lived principally upon birds, and in March commenced to catch seals. Through that month we supported ourselves on

BEARS' AND SEALS' FLESH,

Wasting neither skin nor entrails. We collected enough food in this way to last us until the middle of May, had we not been driven to sea by a strong westerly gale in the latter part of March, our floe piece being then reduced from five miles in circumference to about twenty yards in diameter. We left the piece on the 1st of April, and abandoned nearly all of our meat, a large amount of ammunition, clothing, skins and other articles, taking a portion of the meat in the boat, which we were obliged to throw overboard on account of the boats being so deeply laden. I regained

THE OUTER EDGE OF THE PACK

Of ice on the 3d of April, and succeeded in getting a little farther in on the pack. On the 4th a heavy northeast gale set in, a heavy sea running under the ice, which broke it in small pieces, so that we had to live on small pans, as we could not put the boat out, neither could we find seals for food, and we were

REDUCED ALMOST TO STARVATION.

On the 21st of April we sighted a polar bear. Every person was ordered to lie down and imitate the seal, while the two Esquimaux secreted themselves behind a piece of ice, enticing the bear near enough to us to kill him. A few days after this we got our boat in the water and worked our way west and southwest, and continued to work every opportunity to the westward, in hopes of reaching the Labrador coast and getting temporary relief. We were

PICKED UP BY THE STEAMSHIP TIGRESS,

Captain Bartlett, on the 30th April, in latitude 53° 35' north, longitude 55° west, or near Wolf Island, and about forty miles from land. The Polaris is now without boats, having lost two in trying to get north in the spring of 1872.

A PROVIDENTIAL MEETING.

The Tigress fell in with the party in a dense fog and providentially struck the very floe on which they were, otherwise they must have perished. They all seem tolerably well.

Captain Tyson complained of swelled legs and feet, but nothing serious is the matter with him. When they left the Polaris all on board were in good health.

In reference to the way in which the Polaris got away from the party which was rescued from off the iceberg, Captain Tyson stated that he felt little anxiety at first, thinking she would soon come to their relief. "I set my colors," he said, "as she steamed down along the shore, but the vessel was soon lost to sight in the bend of the land, and behind what I took to be Northumberland Island. The piece of ice I was on commenced drifting southward as the wind hauled to the northeast of Northumberland Island. I saw the vessel in the harbor there; her sails were furled, no smoke was issuing from her smoke stack that I could see. I then attempted to bring my boat across the floe in an easterly direction.

HOPING TO FIND WATER

and reach shore. I succeeded in dragging one boat across, took the water and attempted to reach the shore some distance below the vessel. We were then drifting very fast and the gale was blowing fresh, with great violence, from the north east, and snowing very fast and drifting. I was driven back on the ice and compelled to haul my boat out. Night closed on me and carried us to the southwest. In the morning we were about thirty miles southwest of where the ship went in harbor. A heavy sea was running, which broke up my floe piece, separating us from six bags of bread and one boat. I saw a vessel under steam and canvas rounding a point to the northwest. Thinking she would come to our relief I gave myself no extra anxiety, but soon we were doomed to disappointment, and, from that time until the Tigress rescued us, we never got a glimpse of the Polaris.

THE OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

"ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, May 9, 1873.—The English sailing ship Walrus has just arrived, and reports that the steamer Tigress picked up on the ice at Grady Harbor, Labrador, on the 30th of April last, fifteen of the crew and five of the Esquimaux of the steamer Polaris, of the Arctic Expedition. Captain Hall died last summer. The Tigress is hourly expected at St. Johns.

F. N. MALLOY, United States Consul."

On the receipt of this dispatch, the Acting Secretary of State at once telegraphed to Consul Malloy to ascertain the names of the seamen saved, that those having relations or friends on board might be relieved from further anxiety.

The expedition was fitted out at great expense, and under the personal supervision of the naval officials at the Washington Navy Yard. At the time of the departure of the Polaris her fate was predicted by experienced naval seamen who have carefully studied the charts, and pronounced the passage undertaken by Captain Hall as only a waste of money.

The news of the disaster to the Polaris affected the President deeply, as he had hoped that the enterprise of the Government in this direction would redound to our national honor.

Burial of Gen Canby.

From an Indianapolis dispatch of May 23d we take the annexed brief account of the Canby obsequies at Indianapolis:

The funeral of Gen. Canby took place from the First Baptist Church this afternoon. The church was handsomely decorated throughout with emblems of mourning. The services were conducted by the Rev. Dr. Day, of the Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Drs. Bayless, of the Methodist, Kimber, of the Presbyterian, and Bradley, of the Episcopal Church. After the ceremony at the church, the remains were taken to Crown Hill Cemetery, followed by a very large procession, including the city police, Emmet and College Guards, preceded by a band, organized societies and officiating clergy. The pall-bearers were Major General Irvin McDowell, Major General P. St. George Cooke, Lieut. Governor Leonidas Sexton, Judge Walter Q. Gresham, General F. McGinnis, General Geo. H. Chapman, Judge S. P. Buskirk, General Lew. Wallace, General John C. Wright, General John S. Simmons, Austin H. Brown and Judge Livingstone Howland. Then came the hearse, mourners, the family and staff of deceased; the General of the Army and Lieutenant General of the Army; the four chief officers of State; Senators and Representatives in Congress from Indiana and other States; judiciary of the United States and State of Indiana; clergy and faculty of Wabash College; officers and soldiers of the war of 1812 and Mexican war and late war; the Mayor and corporate authorities of Indianapolis and adjoining cities; officers of the army and navy and marine corps of the United States, officers and members of the Board of Trade. Among the distinguished military men present were Generals Sherman, Sheridan, Ekin, Callander, Carrington, Baird and others. In the procession, immediately following the hearse was the horse used by General Canby in the Indian campaign, led by an orderly, with the General's sword hung from the saddle bow.

Alabama Claims Again.

LONDON, May 26.—The House of Commons to-night, while in Committee of Supply, took up the item for the payment of the Alabama award.

Mr. Bentinck declared that the Government's policy on the question was humiliating and degrading. The Government should have broken off negotiations at a time when no shame would have been left to England. This arbitration was the greatest proof of human folly, and could not be considered otherwise than as a national degradation.

Sir Stafford Northcote admitted that during the negotiations of the treaty he did not minutely ex[illegible] the consequence to British subjects of fixing the end of the war at [illegible].

Gladstone said the advancement of indirect claims by the American Government was a gigantic error. In all other respects he defended the course the arbitration had taken. The debate closed and the item was agreed to.

LONDON, May 27.—A fire attended with loss of life occurred this morning in Berkley's square. Six persons who were unable to escape from the burning building perished, and six were injured by a falling wall.

Very Probable.

The Daily News has a dispatch from Berlin which advances the idea that it is the prevalent opinion in Germany that President McMahon will prove a counterpart of General Monck, restorer of the House of Stuart to the English throne, and that his election heralds a legitimist restoration in France.

STOCKTON, May 27.—Upon the requisition of the Governor of California and Governor Woods of Utah, W. T. Wilson, alias Baxter alias Webster, was arrested at the mouth of Dry Canyon. The "fear-of-death" argument, in support of capital punishment, is not sustained to any great extent by the statistics of crime in Georgia. An exchange from that State informs us that there are now under sentence of death for crimes against that commonwealth, some twenty persons, all of whom are to be executed within the next sixty days.

The Daily Oregonian.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, MAY 28, 1873.

The Railway Investigation.

Among the passengers to arrive by the steamer now due from San Francisco, are the gentlemen sent out by the German Bankers and Bond-holders, to investigate the affairs of the Oregon and California Railway Company. Hon. Milton S. Latham, the trustee of the mortgage, is also on board. We hope the investigation these gentlemen may make will have the effect of convincing them that the people of Oregon have been grievously misrepresented by those who have said that any considerable portion of them were opposed to railway enterprises in this State. It has been a common thing for certain persons, the retainers of the individual who has had the management of the road in his hands to denounce as an enemy to the enterprise itself every person who criticised its mangement. Nothing could be further from the truth, or more unjust to the people of Oregon than this; for no people are more willing to encourage this or any other enterprise that is calculated to develop the resources and energies of the country. It is the abuses and oppressions that have been part and parcel of the management of this road, that the people have spoken against and condemned. They have asked that the railway be allowed to stand upon its own merits, and not be made an instrument to close all other avenues of communication with the country, and cause freights to be higher, instead of lower, than before. Let these agents of the capitalists, if they have the power, see to it that the road is placed in the hands of some man who will run it for the mutual benefit of the owners and the people of the State, and there is no doubt it would receive all the patronage that a country rich as ours, and with the conveniences we possess for cheaper modes of transportation, could bestow on a railway. This is all that is needed to restore the road to a fair popular favor.

The Boston correspondent of the Sacramento Union writes that business is very dull in all departments, though money is rather easier than it has been for some time. "Merchants complain bitterly of the difficulty of making collections; their country customers are especially backward. The boot and shoe trade is very quiet, and transactions thus far this year show a considerable falling off. In the manufacturing towns dullness prevails, many of the workmen having left the shops to engage in farm labor." He mentions one remarkable instance of the rise in value of a [illegible] stock. "The shares of the Pacific Mills of Lawrence are now worth about $2,000 each. Twenty-two or twenty-three years ago an acquaintance of mine bought ten shares at $[illegible] each."

A Vienna dispatch of May 15th says that the stormy weather which had prevailed there for a week prior to that date, culminated on the 14th in a gale of extraordinary violence. In the afternoon a gust of wind broke in the [illegible] of the western front of the Exposition building. Some of the visitors were struck by the falling fragments and injured. Torrents of rain poured through the openings, and a large quantity of goods was damaged. The Annex was [illegible] with water, and the ground around the building were a morass of [illegible]. The dispatch states that "the number of visitors during the past few days has been small and is distressing. Those that [illegible] chiefly from foreign countries. Few [illegible] are seen."

We read of a amusing incident which occurred recently in the Massachusetts General Court. Hoyt, of Athol, the distinguished [illegible] knight of battle-flag fame, in speaking on the bill appropriating $50,000 to the support of Prof. Agassiz's Museum of Comparative Zoology, went out of his way to make [illegible] disrespectful flings at the owl and the [illegible]. A [illegible] from Cambridge objected "to the gentleman's dragging his family quarrels into the debate!" Thereupon the speaker reminded the latter that his interruption was a breach of courtesy and a libel on "the form divine." The rebuke is generally [illegible] unjust by such Massachusetts papers as have dared to speak on the delicate subject.

It is said the ring are resorting to their old trick of copying [illegible] out of a San Francisco Directory, to swell the list of signers to their dictation to the City Committee. If they copied them out of a Portland Directory they would very likely be troubled with those black cards of disclaimer which are so exceedingly disagreeable on such occasions. But [illegible] from the Directory of another city, the danger of disclaimers is avoided, while, though the names may not be familiar to the Committee, they will be followed up by such investigation as to prevent the Committee from supposing them to be the signatures of genuine citizens. The persons who have the manipulation of that dictation document will do to be watched.

The ring had several persons out scouring the city again yesterday for signatures to their dictation to the Republican Central Committee. We are told they are procuring signatures alike of Democrats and Republicans, avoiding only those Democrats whose [illegible] is such that the fraud would be detected at once. The fact that the names of the signers to their document are kept from the public, while the body of the document itself is published in the ring organ, is a suspicious circumstance. We should advise the Committee to scrutinize pretty closely the proceedings of men who keep these names in the dark.

The State Republican Convention of Ohio organized at Columbus on the 21st inst. The present State officers were renominated, except Alphonso Hart, who was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor, and John Little for Comptroller. The resolutions reaffirm the principles of the Republican party; declare that it is a necessity for the welfare of the country; reaffirm confidence in President Grant, and in the wisdom, integrity and success of his administration.

An Illinois exchange affirms that the Order of Patrons of Husbandry is gaining gigantic size and strength throughout the Western States. Its membership is increasing at the rate of seven hundred per day. The paper referred to also states that through the beneficial operations of the order, the farmers of Iowa alone last year saved nearly half a million dollars in the purchase of implements—such as mowers, threshers, plows, etc.

James A. Coe, the Boston forger, has been committed to jail, in default of $400,000 bail. It is said that his operations will exceed $900,000, although he is specifically charged with only $37,000.

A Sensible Letter.

Col. B. B. Taylor, in a letter published in the Herald of yesterday, explains the scope and objects of the citizens movement in this city, in a very plain and common-sense manner, utterly dispersing the twaddle which the Holladay papers have been indulging in with reference to the effect of this movement upon the future prospects of political parties in this State. He says:

> No good citizen objects to paying all reasonable and proper taxes; all beyond this is downright robbery, all the worse because done under the forms and sanctions of law. Such are some of the views which have moved the great body of citizens, comprehending many of the best men in the community, to sign a call for an independent or tax-payers' ticket. They want to take the city offices and the city finances out of the hands of party and party rings. They want to elect respectable men to office, who shall not feel that they owe their positions to party managers, and who will therefore feel under no obligations to use the patronage of their offices for corrupt party ends. They want to make these officers directly responsible to the people, and not to a party; so that, if an official shall be guilty of any official delinquency he cannot invoke the powerful aid of party to excuse, hide or extenuate his crime, or protect him from that measure of punishment which his offense should meet. This illustrates the importance of having officers, in our local affairs, at least, who shall not feel under obligations to party for their distinction, on the one hand; and who cannot call in the aid of party to screen their misconduct on the other.
> You seem to think that those Republicans who have signed this aforesaid call, should be willing to vote a Democratic ticket, because they are dissatisfied with the present state of things in our city affairs. You forget that the call itself expressly stipulates that those signing it do not thereby forego any of their party obligation or views. It does not follow, therefore, that because they have signed this call they cease to be Republicans, or that they are ready to join the Democratic party. Their specific object is, to take our city administration out of the hands of party—all parties. The like observations may be made of those Democrats who have signed this call. And now, these gentlemen having signed this call, it is too late to ask them to ignore their own act and abandon the position they have deliberately taken. They cannot do so consistent with their plighted honor; they have given a public pledge to stand by the position they have deliberately taken, and you may depend they will do it.

All the talk about this election controlling the next State election is perfectly absurd. The signers to the call were particular to make a positive assertion in substance that they expected in all party elections to vote for their party candidates. There is not probably a single signer to that call who will not vote in the next State election the ticket of the party with which he has heretofore acted. They simply propose, according to the language of the call, to make selection of merely local officers without reference to party.

It has been said that the State always goes as the city of Portland goes. This has been the case generally, and for the very simple reason that we have had party tickets heretofore, and the result of the city election could be pointed to by the winning party as a partisan triumph. No such result would follow an election conducted without reference to party.

New York City elected its last Mayor upon a ticket chosen without reference to party, with Wm. F. Havemeyer, a prominent Democrat, at its head as candidate for Mayor. The Republican papers advocated the ticket, and the Republican voters supported it, and Havemeyer was elected on the same day that the Republicans won the most magnificent victory in the State that they have ever achieved. San Francisco is about as certain to elect a "no-party" ticket as the years come round, and yet San Francisco contributes her regular majority to the Republican majorities of the State. But to cite cases to prove that a movement of this sort can have no possible bearing upon the future party elections, seems like citing instances to prove that twice two are four. It requires only the least reflection to perceive that there is nothing in the world but the most transparent humbuggery in this entire clamor about the danger of the demoralization of parties by the running of a ticket selected in this manner.

As we have said before, it will be time enough to endorse or condemn the ticket when it has been nominated: but whether it shall be a good ticket or a poor one, the fact will still remain, that all that has been said against it in advance, has been the silliest kind of bosh.

The New York Times very appropriately says of a certain feature in the salary-grab business: "The people of Kane county, Ills., don't take kindly to humbug. Mr. Farnsworth, having offered them a share in his back pay, they have resolved to return it to the Treasury of the United States. When will the ordinary politician understand that, in the long run, it is only the real article that passes for public virtue? We commend this action of the Illinois farmers to those who think the back-pay grab ought to go to 'a man's own district,' and also to those Congressmen who think they can safely pocket the money themselves."

Buffalo lays claim to the best-developed specimen of the species Miser, genus Homo. His name is (rather was) Thomas B. Newman. He died a few days since in the city hospital, at the advanced age of seventy-three years. This wretched being had lived in a mean hovel for the last thirty-seven years, and there, surrounded by filth and covered with vermin, he accumulated the immense stores of wealth which, after all, could not save him from the destroyer. He owned some of the most valuable real estate in the business localities of Buffalo.

There are omens of war all along the Northern border of the United States. The Indians are becoming more unmanageable, as the following dispatch to the War Department from Gen. Custar, at Fort Randall, Dakota, May 14th, will testify: "Fallis, a guide sent me from Randall, reports positively that three hundred warriors and young men belonging to the Yankton agency left their reservation, a few days ago, to join hostile Indians of the Upper Missouri, and that the Indians will muster five thousand warriors in the field this summer."

Of course, when a man retires from the seductive complications of Society he has a right to choose the objects on which to lavish his irrepressible affections, but we do not admire the taste of the recluse at Bristol, Vt., who died lately, leaving thirty-six full grown cats and ten litters of kittens in his retreat. Such pets may discipline the soul and distract the thoughts from the affairs of this world, but what world and state of being they would prepare one for, is a problem to be grappled with only by a country editor.

It is with great pleasure that we publish the card of Senator Mitchell, announcing his purpose to clear up everything connected with the charges made against him by the Pittsburg papers.

The Grand Encampment of Odd Fellows of Missouri met in St. Louis on the 22d inst. The report of the Grand Scribe shows that the present membership of the Order in that State numbers 2,123.

The Profession of Law.

In his opening address at the fourteenth Commencement of the Law School at Columbia College, on the 14th inst., Prof. Dwight spoke at considerable length and with much wisdom of the duties and obligations of the lawyer. He reminded the graduates that their duties to their clients, high and honorable though they be, must be fulfilled in subordination to the general welfare of society. The lawyer's relation to his client is individual and personal, but his duties to society are not of his own selection. He forms part of the great organism which we call the State, an organism which lives as an individual does, which grows, reaches maturity; which sometimes grows old and dies, as the individual man passes away. It is a most delicate and sensitive organism. Prof. Dwight warned his auditors of the demoralizing influence of the evil-minded lawyer in the following words:

> No men can do society so much good, or such undefinable harm, as can lawyers. They are trained to know the parts where it is weak. They can stab it at a vital part, if they are selfish. Skillful men can hoodwink a Legislature, prepare for their adoption innocent-looking bills which are mere engines of mischief, all the while preserving the most ingenious appearance and the blandest smile. Cunning lawyers can arrange for unscrupulous clients the most skillfully-devised machinery to entrap the unsuspicious and the unwary. The two thus working together may form the most perfect combination of the fertile brain with the ready hand. These men may aim to corrupt the judge, to manage the referree, to seduce the witness, or bribe the juror, until good men stand aghast and wonder if civilization is all rottenness and human progress a mockery. But, then, there is the brighter side. The immense social force produced by legal thought and accumen may be turned to the best results. It is a subject of joy that a truly great lawyer is at the same time a good man. You cannot take away his conscientiousness and sensitiveness to right without robbing him of his power. The cunning and unscrupulous men do not rise above the second grade at the Bar. There is always some honorable man who is their superior, and who will overmatch them. The reason of this is not far to seek. No one can properly affect his audience who is himself insincere. The power of the advocate is largely aided by the conviction on the part of his hearers that he is honest and sincere. He cannot always play a part or seem the thing he is not. Without lofty purpose the mind cannot be carried forward or sustained to do the work necessary to reach the highest eminence. If he labors merely for reputation or to carry a particular point, in order to gain money or to win an hour's applause, he has no sufficient stimulus to sustain him throughout a life. His place at the Bar is soon fixed, and he rises no higher; money flows in, and he relaxes his efforts. He has not fibre enough to resist the strain of the downward forces.

The Bulletin man says he will some time in the future, prove his charge that we acted dishonestly with a partner in a law case. Very well; that is exactly what we want him to attempt. We have repeatedly demanded the proof, and still demand it. But why some time in the future? Why not now, while the matter is fresh? It won't cost you any more to bribe a witness now than at some future time.

The Congregationalist is a little out of humor in its last issue. It says of the Boston Bazaar, that "the saleswomen have been selected more for their good looks than for their orthodoxy." The Christian Register touches the root of the matter in its retort: "There are very few girls, inside or outside of Christendom, who would not rather be called pretty heretics than homely believers."

The recent panic in Austria seems to have been so general and wide spread that all classes and conditions were affected by it. Its effect on the Exposition was noticeable. Says a Vienna dispatch: "The protracted panic on the Bourse disheartens the citizens. At Odessa, Russia, all business stopped, and discounts rose to the enormous rate of nine per cent.

President Lerdo de Tejada gave a banquet to Minister Thomas H. Nelson, and Porter C. Bliss, Secretary of Legation, on the eve of their departure for home. A dispatch says that a number of distinguished Mexican and American gentlemen were present and the utmost cordiality was manifested. Minister Nelson is superseded by Foster of Indiana.

The St. Paul Press informs us that so numerous and powerful have the Scandinavians in that State become, that they demand representation on the next Republican State ticket in Minnesota. That journal recognizes the claim as just, and advises that such a concession be made.

Boston Notes.

The Boston correspondent of the Sacramento Union, in a letter dated May 14th, says:

> The funeral of Oakes Ames took place at North Easton, on Sunday, with impressive ceremonies. Hundreds of people from all parts of the State, carried by special trains, testified their respect for the deceased by gathering to witness the last honors to his memory. Among the distinguished persons present were Vice President Wilson, Senator Boutwell, Ben. F. Butler, Alex. H. Rice and other personal and political friends of note.

> There was a meeting yesterday of the "National Anti-Monopoly Cheap Freight Railway League," in the course of which the organization was dissolved and transformed into the Massachusetts branch of the "American Cheap Transportation Association." A delegate was chosen to attend the convention of the Farmers' Association, to be held at Atlanta, Georgia, on the 20th inst. The Association will inaugurate a series of public meetings, and will "agitate" in an active manner against the tyranny of railroads.

> Charles Sumner was divorced from his wife by a decree rendered last week. She is now in Europe, I believe, where she has lived most if not all the time since their separation. Their marriage was a sad mistake, which both of them speedily realized. They were as unlike as fire and ice. She a widow in her prime, of a lively temperament and fond of excitement and gayety; he a cold, precise, scholarly man, naturally selfish, and confirmed in his egotism by a long bachelorhood. I trust none of your unmarried lady readers will make the journey East in the hope of "catching" the great statesman, as it is not at all likely that he will try another ticket in the matrimonial lottery.

> Barnum's big show arrived Sunday morning, and has been the center of attraction since that time. It is without doubt the best exhibition of the kind ever seen here, and its dimensions are gigantic. Last night over 15,000 people were gathered in the tent and many were turned away for want of room. Yesterday afternoon, when the exhibition was well under way, in presence of a dense audience, a sudden thunder squall came up, and there was a brief panic in the crowd. The excellence of Barnum's arrangements was strikingly manifested as his great and well drilled force speedily had the huge tent under perfect control, and, though the audience got a wetting no serious harm was done.

The N. Y. Evening Mail has this sensible comment on a recent "affair of honor" which has attracted considerable attention:

> Mr. Mordecai, one of the principals in the recent duel at Richmond, has died of the wounds received in that absurd affair, and McCarthy, the other principal, is to be held on a charge of murder in the first degree, and the seconds as accessories before the fact. If they were to be convicted and punished according to law, the case would go far to reduce duelling to its proper place in the category of crimes.

TO THE PEOPLE OF OREGON.

In regard to charges against me in newspapers of recent dates, I desire to say that full explanations in relation thereto will appear in a few days, supported by statements from prominent gentlemen in the State of Pennsylvania who have known me from childhood. I purpose to explain to the people of Oregon everything in relation to this matter, and shall substantiate the facts of my whole history prior to my leaving my native State (Pennsylvania), by the testimony of prominent men and unimpeachable witnesses; and upon such testimony rather than my own statement I shall submit to the impartial judgment of the people of this State any question as to my standing and integrity, put in issue by the articles referred to.

My only object in suffering any delay is to enable me to obtain dispatches from Pennsylvania, several of which have been voluntarily sent me already, in response to the articles appearing against me.

Within three or four days, at furthest, I shall be able to respond. Until such time I will be glad to submit to any one the dispatches already received. Respectfully,

J. H. MITCHELL.

Portland, May 27, 1873.

The following instance of the coolness and self-control of the late Dr. Ebenezer Porter, of Andover, is vouched for by a religious journal of New York:

> A man came to him one day in a towering passion. The minister had preached or practiced something that had greatly roused his spirit. For a time Mr. Porter let him pour out his wrath, without saying a word. This was oil to the fire.
> "Why don't you speak and answer me?"
> "Well, sir, a long time ago, I made up my mind not to talk with a man who is a fool, or"—
> "Do you call me a fool, sir?"
> —"Or who is intoxicated, or"—
> "Do you say I am drunk, sir?"
> —"Or who is in a passion! Good morning, sir."
> This coolness fairly overcame the man. There was too much water for the fire. The tradition is that the man became his warm friend.

CITY.

[illegible] REMARKABLE STARS.—A brilliant starry [illegible] is now visible in the early evening. It is [illegible] up of the three brightest stars that are ever [illegible] in our latitude, with the exception of Mars, [illegible] in opposition. Venus, Jupiter and Sirius [illegible] the shining points of the celestial triangle, [illegible] the geometrical marvel easy to recognize. Venus must be looked for in the west, Jupiter [illegible] the zenith in the east, and Sirius in [illegible]. The contrast is strongly marked. Venus [illegible] the lead, as she hangs like a golden [illegible] in the glowing west; Jupiter is of a deeper [illegible] toward orange, while Sirius, glittering with beaming rays, is of a softened white, [illegible] with a blending of the most delicate shades [illegible] and blue. The real contrast between [illegible] is greater than the seeming one, and in [illegible] ratio. Venus is a little globe, no [illegible] than ours; Jupiter is a giant planet, four [illegible] hundred times as large as the earth, while [illegible] in a glorious sun, twenty millions of millions of miles away, and yet one of our nearest [illegible] neighbors, although far more powerful and [illegible] exceeding in size the sun, our symbol [illegible]. In a few weeks the starry triangle will be broken up, its members taking new [illegible] and forming new combinations, while [illegible] stars will take their places upon our field of [illegible] observation, and furnishing the never-[illegible] variety, which is one of the charms of the [illegible].

[illegible] of the corporation shall be known as [illegible] Grove No. [illegible], United Ancient Order of [illegible].

[illegible] or limit of the corporation shall be [illegible].

[illegible] object and business of this corporation [illegible] relief of its members, charitable [illegible] administration of privileges, honors [illegible] of the United Ancient Order of Dru[illegible].

[illegible] of making these articles the estimate [illegible] the property of this corporation is [illegible] of Grove furniture, paraphernalia and cash on hand.

[illegible] of income are interest on money [illegible], fines and contributions [illegible], and fees for initiation, de[illegible].

[illegible] office, place of meeting, etc., is [illegible] of Portland.

[illegible]—A fellow answering to the name [illegible] the second-hand store of [illegible] on First street yesterday [illegible] that he had a piece of hose [illegible] Mr. Powers to purchase. [illegible] was not right, as the [illegible] look, Mr. Powers [illegible] of the circumstance. That [illegible] and waited for the appear[illegible]. Gil[illegible] soon made an [illegible] fifty feet of small hose on his [illegible] a bargain with Powers. The [illegible] Gilson offered to sell it for [illegible] up and began to question [illegible] he [illegible] in possession of the [illegible] were not very satisfactory [illegible] he was arrested. The case [illegible] in the Police Court this [illegible].

[illegible] LAST NIGHT. Seldom have the [illegible] regarded an opportunity of [illegible] of the [illegible] space [illegible] by Professor O. S. Fowler, of New York, on the subject, "Life, Health and [illegible] the chief charm [illegible] the [illegible] all can [illegible], and yet his language is chaste [illegible]. We [illegible] our readers [illegible] in our city, the [illegible] will be given on to-morrow evening [illegible] Juvenile Improvement."

[illegible] RACE.—The Committee of Arrangements [illegible] by the Hibernian Benevolent [illegible] for [illegible] picnic, [illegible] the various games [illegible] the grounds, will be a race by fat [illegible] has been fixed at 200 yards, [illegible] trial of wind and speed will be made. [illegible] who may desire to enter as a con[illegible] carry 200 pounds avoirdupois. No [illegible] will be allowed to compete for the prize [illegible]. One [illegible] we learn is training [illegible] the river, for [illegible]. The [illegible] promises to be a [illegible] and rare to both participants and [illegible].

[illegible] ACTION.—John M. Selby and George [illegible] commenced action against the South [illegible] Real Estate Association in the U. S. [illegible] Court, for parts of the Caruthers' claim. [illegible], we are informed, involves an investigation of the question in regard to the identity of [illegible] killed Jo. Thomas; so that matter, it appears, is to be litigated again. It is extremely un[illegible] for the south end of the city that an [illegible] litigation over the Caruthers' claim is not [illegible].

[illegible] TO ANSWER.—Captain G. Equin, of the [illegible], who was arrested a few days [illegible] the United States Marshal charged with a [illegible] of the passenger act, had his examination [illegible] before Commissioner Wilcox. After [illegible] of the evidence, the defendant was held [illegible] before the U. S. grand jury in the sum [illegible]. The required bonds were forthcoming, [illegible] yesterday.

[illegible] A large area of land in Holladay's [illegible] Portland, has been cleared during [illegible] the [illegible] which covered the [illegible] into wood. Four thousand [illegible] up on a space of a few [illegible] being used extensively by [illegible] the several locomotives.

[illegible] The little brig Kolon, which [illegible] ago by the St. Helens [illegible] employed exclusively in the [illegible] and San Francisco, [illegible] from Astoria. She [illegible] cargo of miscellaneous freight, [illegible] load of lumber.

[illegible] The iron vault for the new Bank [illegible] has been raised to its proper [illegible] is being put together. This vault [illegible] foundation four feet thick, com[illegible] cemented by concrete. The [illegible] the vault water, air, fire and [illegible].

[illegible] We learn that the epizootic is on [illegible] the horses in the city. The [illegible] to have reached its height and the [illegible] affected by it will probably [illegible] of epidemic by the last of [illegible].

[illegible]—The barkentine Falkinburg is [illegible] taking on a quantity of sal[illegible] for Francisco. She will probably be [illegible] to [illegible], providing the condi[illegible] will admit. No other vessel is ly[illegible].

[illegible]—Papers instituting proceed[illegible] the South Portland Real Estate As[illegible] filed yesterday in the U. S. Circuit [illegible], Sally and Towne. The object [illegible] to gain an interest in the Caruthers [illegible].

[illegible]—As the steamer Dixie Thompson was leaving Astoria yesterday morning a [illegible] was [illegible] just crossing the bar bound [illegible]. At first the steamer was thought to be the [illegible], but it proved to be the John L. Ste[illegible].

[illegible] A large sloop having on board about [illegible] feet of lumber, arrived here from down [illegible] a few days ago. This lumber will be [illegible] for building purposes, and is being dis[illegible] on the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf.

[illegible] WOODS.—Fire for some days has [illegible] in the woods back of Holladay's Ad[illegible] Portland, but should the present [illegible] the last [illegible] age of the [illegible] will [illegible].

[illegible] LIGHT BATTERY.—Members of the [illegible] Light Battery are requested to [illegible] at [illegible] this (Wednesday) evening at half-[illegible].

DUE HERE.—The steamer California was at Nanaimo on Monday evening. From there she was to proceed to Bellingham Bay for stone for the Custom House. She will not be due here before to morrow.

POSTPONED.—In consequence of inclement weather the Champions' excursion and picnic will be postponed till further notice is given. But it is certain to come off as soon as the weather becomes settled.

ROUGH WEATHER.—Persons from down the Columbia report that a heavy rain storm has prevailed in the vicinity of Astoria for several days past, and, in consequence, the bar has been quite rough.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Rather wet out.

The "epizoot" prevaileth.

No good weather for picnics.

You can bet on the river rising now.

Teachers of music numerous in this vicinity.

Everybody goes to Fabre's, Central Market, for coffee.

Considerable butter and eggs passing through by express.

Building operations materially interfered with yesterday.

The Turn Verein Society are pretty well fixed financially.

No California or Eastern mail received at the postoffice last evening.

New papers appearing daily—and we might add, some drop off occasionally.

The main hall over Central Market will be ready for occupancy in about six weeks.

Eastern papers say that Walla Walla is in Oregon. They had better look through a geography occasionally.

The Turn Verein Society have leased a room on the third floor of the Central Market building. They expect to occupy it in a month.

Tickets are out for the Hibernian Society's picnic which takes place on the 5th prox. The object is to raise funds for building purposes.

On the evening of the 5th prox. the Independent Order of the Champions of the Red Cross will hold a strawberry festival at Philharmonic Hall.

Yesterday afternoon, while out on Oak street, we observed on that street, just above Seventh, a structure being erected which, for simplicity of architecture and devoidness of anything approximating to beauty, rather "lays it to" anything we have seen in this city. For what purpose it is to be used we are at a loss to know.

BASE BALL.

The Rustlers, of Oregon City, play the College Club of Salem on Saturday the 31st inst., at the former place. The boys here will watch the game with interest.

We again urge the propriety of the Pioneer Club (first nine) going into practice and that they test the merits of the Pacific Club in at least two games before their match with the College Club.

Last evening the Pioneer Base Ball Club received a note from the College Club accepting the challenge sent them by the former club. The time set is for Saturday, June 14th. We presume great interest will be taken by the admirers of the game in this match.

The second nine of the Pioneer Club will be selected next Tuesday evening. At the last meeting of the Pioneer Club the Committee on Uniform reported that they had decided on obtaining blue pants, white shirts with blue cuffs and collars with red breast place in which the letter "P" would be set, out out of blue. The hat to be worn has not yet been decided upon.

PERSONAL.

Judge B. F. Bonham returned to the city last evening from Hillsboro, having disposed of all the legal business before him at that place.

If you want the woven wire bed, parlor and bedroom suits, the best spring and pure hair mattress, go to Hurgren & Shindler.

ON DECK.—Mr. Charles Talbot has opened his Photographic Gallery at 135 First street, where he proposes to produce pictures equal to the best, and at prices that will enable all who desire anything in his line an opportunity to have their "Photos" taken. Be sure to call and see him, and recollect the number.

Mr. John Kennedy, formerly of the Philadelphia Shoe Store, is now at the San Francisco Shoe Store with Fleischner & Orone, where he will be pleased to wait upon his friends and customers, with one of the largest and finest stocks of boots and shoes on the coast. He will also continue to take measures for ladies' custom-made shoes.

If you want pure, fine liquors of any kind, go to E. D. Tyne's, northwest corner of Oak and First streets, agent for the sale of Jessie Moore & Co.'s fine Old Bourbon and Rye Whiskies of Louisville, Ky.

DRESS WELL.—The young man who desires his "make-up" complete should always select the place where the articles [illegible] can be obtained. For a well-fitting suit, made of the very finest materials, the public is directed to the house of Fishel & Roberts, an establishment which ranks with the leading houses on the coast. The stock is complete, the attention paid to customers, and the promptness with which orders are filled, at once commends this house to all.

PERSONAL.—Dr. Helmbold to the front again. We are glad to see that during the Doctor's temporary residence in Europe the supply of his genuine Extract Buchu (the only known specific for urinary disorders and other complaints in either sex) has been supplied from his formula and apparatus by his representative here. The genuine article bears the Doctor's signature, and is probably the best known and most valuable remedy of the kind in the world. John F. Henry, New York, Sole Agent.

The public mind has been somewhat agitated with the Modoc war, an occasional marine or railway disaster, and the dull times, and the prospect of buying clothing at a figure not large enough to clean a man to the bedrock. The place has been found where you can buy men and boy's clothing, or gentlemen's furnishing goods, at the very lowest prices. It is at Beck & Waldman's, corner of Front and Washington street, where a full assortment of men and boys' clothing, in the latest styles, can be selected from.

For a fashionable suit of clothing and the necessary outfit to make the attire of a well dressed man complete, call at J. O'Neil & Co's, where a new stock of clothes and furnishing goods have been placed upon the counters and shelves, ready for the inspection of customers. They furnish you with anything you desire at moderate rates, and will fill orders with dispatch.

A first-class photograph is worth a good price. A poor one is of no value whatever. Therefore the motto of Buchtel & Stolte is "Superior work, equal to any in the United States, for which we demand a good price, and receive the [illegible]. Our new Viewing Wagon, for Scenic Views, is now ready, and all orders for pictures of buildings, etc., promptly attended to, at the First Premium Gallery, No. 91 First street, Portland, Oregon.

OREGON.

The estimated value of the late rains to the farmers of Washington county is $20,000.

Russell Post, G. A. R., at Salem, is making arrangements for appropriate observance of Decoration Day.

A concert was given by amateurs at Astoria on Monday evening, which was well attended and highly enjoyed.

A Red Cross Champion strawberry festival and musical concert was held at Salem last night. Prof. Yarndley, of this city was pianist.

Washington county, we learn, is not to escape the epizooty, and several farmers out there are bewailing its appearance among their horses.

From the Statesman we learn that the great themes of conversation at Salem are the Capitol Commissioners' Capitol plans, Capitol buildings, etc.

Some seventy convicts are at work on the Capitol grounds at Salem with pick, shovel and wheelbarrow, making the excavation for the foundation.

The Farmers' County Convention of Marion county will meet at the Legislative Hall, June 7th. Each club of the county will be entitled to our delegates.

Rev. Mr. Russell Dawne, of Salem, has just received advices from Mississippi, announcing that forty families would start May 20th, for Oregon, from a neighborhood with which he has been in correspondence.

It is reported that a lively contest is going on in Washington county in procuring subscribers to the two papers published respectively at Forest Grove and Cornelius. The Progressionist is offered at $2 per annum and the Independent at $1 50.

By the telegraphic dispatches yesterday, came the announcement of the appointment of J. W. Brasfield of Smith, Brasfield & Co., as Postmaster at Junction City. Mr. Brasfield is an excellent gentleman, and we are pleased to note his appointment.

A private letter from Bishop McTyeire, of the M. E. Church South, to Dr. Dawne, of Salem, states that the Columbia Conference will be held in Brownsville, Oregon, commencing September 3d, 1873. The Missionary appropriation is quite large; almost double any former one.

Side tracks will be laid from the main line of the Oregon & California Railroad to the stone quarry in Umpqua for loading the stone on flat cars for the State Capitol foundation at Salem, and another track will be put in at the latter place leading from the main line to the Capitol grounds. The stone will not be moved by reshipment on the way from the quarry to the foundation.

From the Statesman: "Rev. A. Myers, of this city, has lately taken out a patent for an improvement in metallic cases for Turbine water wheels. These wheels have hitherto been used exclusively on vertical shafts, thereby often necessitating the use of bevel gearing in the transmission of power to the machinery operated. Mr. Myers' improvement makes provision for moving these wheels on horizontal shafts, thereby obviating the necessary use of expensive gearing in conveying the power to the main line of shafting."

THE TERRITORIES.

C. E. Burrows of Salem is in Olympia again to see about inaugurating the introduction of gas.

Those incorrigible pests, the caterpillars, have made their appearance in the orchards on the Sound.

A lady at Olympia has received a collection of pressed flowers taken from the lot which were strewn upon the bier of Hon. S. P. Chase.

The Olympia Courier failed to come to time last evening, and from an item in the Tribune of the 26th inst. we judge that the Courier is suspended for the present.

The horse disease is now prevailing about Olympia, but has not yet reached a point of danger. A large number of railroad horses and mules have it, and five of Mr. Coggan's horses are affected.

To remove the cause of disease is its only perfect cure. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry gives vigor and healthy action to the lungs, cleanses them of all impurities, and, as shown by thousands of witnesses, performs a radical cure of coughs, colds, bronchitis, etc.

There are several kinds of worms which trouble horses; the pin-worms, pointed at both ends, are the most common and most dangerous. Sheridan's Cavalry Condition Powders will in a few days eject the worms, and the horse will begin to thrive.

Factories and machine shops should not be allowed to run a day without Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. In case of a sudden accident, an immediate use of it may save weeks of suffering, and perhaps a limb, or even life.

NATURE GIVES US TEETH.—But she does not preserve and purify them. That must be done by fragrant SOZODONT. The dental bone and its enamel casing are made invulnerable to all destructive influences by the daily use of this beneficial preparation.

UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE FOR CONSUMPTION.—And all Bronchial and Pulmonary affections, carefully prepared from the formula of Prof. Trousseau, of Paris, who used it with such astonishing efficacy in the hospitals of that city, as to attract the attention of the faculty to its wonderful [illegible] its.

It is now [illegible] with like great efficacy, giving new life to many [illegible], relieving all.

Wanted,

YOUNG MAN AS OFFICE CLERK. MUST WRITE a good hand. Address with references,

G. H., P. O. Box 281.

TO THE TAX-PAYERS OF THE CITY OF PORTLAND.

The Portland Water Company take this method of defining their position on the purchase of their works by the city of Portland:

On the 25th day of April, 1872, this company received a communication from Messrs. W. S. Ladd, J. B. Congle, C. H. Lewis and S. G. Reed, sub committee on water supply, appointed by the Mayor, asking the question:

"Will you dispose of your works to the city of Portland? and if so, you will state price, terms, etc."

Our answer was, we would sell; and the price, three hundred thousand dollars, to be paid as specified.

Again, the Committee on Fire and Water called on us at our office, saying they came in accordance with a resolution passed by the Common Council, on the 5th of February, to confer with us as to the purchase of our works by the city, to ascertain the price, and report to the Council at their earliest convenience. This company named the same price, viz: $300,000, that had been named to the former committee, two hundred and forty thousand dollars coin, and the city to assume the payment of sixty thousand dollars currency bonds, bearing seven per cent. interest, payable in July, 1880.

The committee made their report to the Common Council on the evening of February 18, 1873, from which report we copy the latter portion, viz:

We have been permitted to examine the income of the Water Company for the years 1870, 1871 and 1872, from rents of water, and from them we learn that the receipts would pay the interest on the bonds, the cost of operating the works, and have a considerable surplus, while the rents could be lowered one-fourth the present rates, and still pay rents sufficient to pay interest and cost of operating, thus giving to our citizens cheaper water, which is a matter greatly to be desired.

The increase of population in the city will increase the rents, and cheaper rates will increase the takers, without corresponding increase in the cost of operating, and in the no distant future your Committee believe that the rates can be reduced to one-half the present rates, and still leave a sufficient revenue to pay interest on the bonds and cost of operating, while a small sum can be annually accumulating to form a sinking fund for the redemption of the bonds.

Under the provisions of our charter nothing can be done in the way of incurring an indebtedness sufficient to purchase or build Water Works by the city until the proposition is submitted to the people at a general election, and by them approved.

Your Committee therefore recommend that the proposition of the Portland Water Company for the sale of their Works, rights, &c., &c., be submitted to the people at the coming June election, as provided by charter, for their approval or rejection.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) J. B CONGLE,
J. C. MORELAND,
Committee on Fire and Water.

The Portland Water Company would respectfully state to the tax payers the fact, that they have not urged the city to purchase our works. We have simply answered in good faith communications from committees appointed by the Mayor and Common Council of this city, as we supposed in good faith on the part of the city, and as a continuance of our willingness to give to the tax payers and the public any information they may desire, in order that they may vote intelligently at the coming June election for or against the purchase of our works by the city, we submit the following abstract from our books for two years, with the probable rates for one year:

The city can run the works, reduce the rates 25 per cent., and leave a balance in favor of the city of six thousand, five hundred and twenty dollars; or, in other words, consumers that now pay $2 per month, can be supplied for $1 50 per month, and others in proportion; and still the city will receive a revenue without taxing the people for a water supply.

Any further information desired in relation to the Company's works will be freely given on application at their office.

Respectfully,
THE PORTLAND WATER COMPANY.
H. D. GREEN, President.

COLEMANS Dr. J. S. Coleman's Compound Extract of Eucalyptus EUCALYPTUS

is a preparation combining all the valuable medicinal qualities of the Eucalyptus, which is cultivated in nearly every California garden for its medicinal utility, having become the household remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS, BLADDER and URINARY CANAL, and SEMINAL WEAKNESS. It seems to have a direct affinity for the GENITO-URINARY ORGANS and their surroundings, and cures them by its alterative, healing and [illegible] properties more effectually than any other known remedy.

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous and serous membranes, such as BRONCHITIS, HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHŒA, etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr. Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the [illegible] in the U. S. Marine Hospital in San Francisco, in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for testing the various method of preparing the remedy, and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the [illegible] and hundred of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office, 405 Kearney street, San Francisco.

COLEMAN'S DOUBLE EXTRACT OF EUCALYPTUS is a powerful, yet harmless, febrifuge, and is a special preparation for the treatment of the malarious fevers of our interior valleys, and is warranted to cure any case of FEVER AND AGUE treated with it according to directions, while the baneful results of the usual Quinine and [illegible] remedies for those diseases are entirely avoided.

LETTER FROM THE LATE CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE.

The Wilmington, N. C. Journal publishes the letter from Chief Justice Chase which is given below, prefacing it with the following: "In 1869, when Judge Chase was holding the June term of the Federal Court in Raleigh, he received a letter from J. E. Williams, then President of a National Bank in New York City, and a personal and political friend of the Chief Justice, taking issue with him for kindly and fraternal sentiments expressed in a letter to Capt. H. B. Manning, of Charleston. While Judge Chase was holding Court in Charleston, during the latter part of May, 1869, he was invited by Capt. Manning to attend the memorial services of the Union dead at Magnolia Cemetery, near that city, and in reply wrote the letter to which Mr. Williams objected. Mr. Williams had been before the war President of a State bank, and had opposed the National Bank system and other leading financial measures which Judge Chase, then Secretary of the Treasurer, was urging upon the consideration of the Government for its adoption."

The following is the letter:

RALEIGH, N. C., June 10, 1869.

"DEAR SIR. I regret that the perusal of my letter to Capt. Manning caused 'painful dissatisfaction' to you, for I am sure that you are patriotic, and not intentionally unjust. Doubtless you remember occasions upon which your active hostility to measures of finances which, as Secretary of the Treasury, I thought indispensable to the success of the national arms and to the permanent welfare of the country, caused painful dissatisfaction to me. The present name of the institution which you manage with so much ability and success, shows that you have abandoned your opposition to one, at least, of these two measures. It is, perhaps, not impossible that you will change your mind as to the sentiment you censure. It seems to me that, taken in connection with the context from which your quotation separates it, its sense cannot be mistaken. It is, that true patriotism requires that the close of a civil war should be marked not by proscription or disfranchisement, but by manifestations of sincere good will, especially from the successful to the unsuccessful, and by generous recognition of whatever was real, brave and earnest, and noble in those who fought on the falling side. I have no sympathy with the spirit which refused to strew flowers upon the graves of the dead soldiers who fought against the side I took; and I am glad to know there was no such spirit among those who joined in decorating the graves of the soldiers of the Union who lie buried at Magnolia Cemetery. The magnolia lavishes its perfumes as freely, the pleasant air breathes as softly, and the warm sunshine as brightly over Confederates as over Union graves. In the letter which has incurred your censure, I sought to put into the heart of my countrymen something of the divine charity taught by the tree, the air, and the sun, as well as by the precepts of our Saviour. I believe it has done some good, and I believe it will do more.

I have read your extract from the speech of 'one of our brave Generals,' whom you do not name. There are some good sentiments in it and some not so good. On the whole, I prefer the letter to the speech, and I am sorry to differ from you so far as to think that, of the two, the letter 'is most becoming' the position which I hold. The Chief Justice is, I think, not illy employed when he inculcates good will among men.

"I notice that you more than intimate that my letter was prompted by ambition. It certainly was not. I do not think I ever was so ambitious as some unambitious people have represented me. At any rate, I am now unconscious of any other ambition than that of doing as much good and as little harm as possible. I have no connection with politics. I never seen nor expect any political position, content to leave to younger men all the contentions and distinctions of political life. I shall be fully satisfied with my share of the general welfare, which it may be hoped wise and generous statesmanship, with God's blessing, will secure for our country.

Very respectfully, yours.

S. P. CHASE."

A recent New York dispatch says:

A number of letters from Gen. Van Buren to President Grant and Secretary Fish, of recent dates, are published this morning. Van Buren makes a defense of the charges against him as the Vienna Commissioner. A letter dated Vienna, April 26th, to President Grant, says: "I can scarcely believe it is your hand that has stricken me down; that by your order I am degraded from the position conferred on me without solicitation on my part. I wish to say in the most emphatic language, but with the greatest respect, that the persons who assert or intimate that I have ever received or asked, or been promised, or expected a single cent, or any consideration or advantage whatever, in connection with the Vienna Exposition, are cowardly slaves and liars."

General Van Buren accuses U. S. Minister Jay of scheming to destroy him and the Commission, to gratify Jay's ambition and desire for notice. He can prove Jay had his plot marked out long ago. In conclusion he appeals to the President to restore him to position and character. With regard to the transactions of General Mayer or others, he is ignorant.

A letter, dated April 28th, to Secretary Fish, is much to the same effect. He accuses Jay of arranging a contract of flooring the space devoted to the United States exhibition, which is denounced by many as a fraud. Another letter to Mr. Fish of the same date, accuses the new Commissioner of conspiracy to prepare a report containing charges of mismanagement against him. If such report finds acceptance with the Department, he says he despairs of justice from the Government. The whole series of letters are supplemented by the affidavit of General Van Buren, sworn to before Philip Sidney, Port Consul General, wherein he solemnly swears he never asked, nor has been promised, nor received, nor expects to receive a single cent, or any consideration whatever for any sum or other appointment, made or promised by him in connection with the Exhibition.

A Washington dispatch of the 19th inst., to the N. Y. Tribune says:

The question of the Chief Justiceship is uppermost here. The arrival of Judge Pierrepont on Saturday has added somewhat to the interest, and the knowledge to-day that he has notified the Secretary of State and the President that he should be forced to decline the mission to Russia, which had been tendered him, has given rise to the impression that perhaps the Judge may be offered the more desirable place. His strength with the President is well known, and it has been long within the knowledge of many that the President at one time, when it was thought that Secretary Fish would retire from office, offered him the office of Secretary of State. It is said now that it is the President's desire to appoint Attorney-General Williams as Chief Justice, and to give the Department of Justice to Judge Pierrepont. There seems to be little to base such conjecture upon, yet there are many in the highest official positions who regard such a course on the part of the President as not improbable. It is known that Judge Williams is strongly backed for the vacancy, and he is himself an eager candidate. It is hardly to be presumed that the President has so soon settled the question in his own mind, and there are facts which go to show that he has not. One of the secretaries at the White House has, since the death of Chase, carefully examined each day hundreds of papers sent to the President, and clipped from them everything having any bearing on the death of Chase and the subject of his successor. What use will be made of these clippings can only be a matter of conjecture.

A San Francisco paper relates that a Nevada lawyer had as a client a man accused of murder, and that the principal witness in his favor being his wife, who was incapacitated from giving testimony by reason of her relation to him, he got the murder trial postponed, brought suit for divorce in her behalf and secured it, and then triumphantly placed her on the stand to secure the acquittal of her husband.

A gentleman residing in Goose Lake Valley, writes us under date of May 19th, saying that the settlers are fortifying at Chewancan, and have commenced building a fort around the mill below that place. Our correspondent also substantiates the report of the capture and killing of three Indians who were attempting to drive off stock.

The Attitude of England on the Alabama Question.

Stripped of all the sophistry by which the question, from its inception down to the present, has been surrounded, it would seem that England has consented not only to the mode of adjustment by arbitration and the subsequent award of the Geneva Tribunal, simply because she feared that if a collision should take place with Russia, in which she should blockade the Baltic and Black Seas, swarms of Russian Alabamas might issue from American ports to prey upon her commerce. This is the idea which crops out in almost every argument and treatise on the subject which has been laid before the public. This explains the curious anomaly of Commissioners who had been appointed to make a treaty with the United States, and whose work had been not only approved but generally applauded, inserting rules in that document which gave the case to the United States, practically before the Tribunal assembled, and which subsequently the British lawyers employed to try the case assailed and the British Arbitrator refused to acknowledge. The point to which we have referred having been saved, England is not disposed in any way to hamper her commercial freedom, intending, as she firmly does, to remain neutral in all future European complications, and to sell to all who may need them, whatever articles, contraband or otherwise, which she can manufacture, she wants all the latitude that she can possibly obtain. It is, therefore, plain that both nations will have to abate somewhat the philanthropic enthusiasm upon which they entered upon this arbitration. They have shown to the world a method of settling internal disputes without a recourse to war, except in a most general manner. They have done no more than to settle their own dispute in a peaceful, though rather clamorous way. But even that must be regarded as a triumph of no ordinary magnitude over the passions which the controversy had evoked.—S. F. Bulletin.

WELL SAID.—The Louisville Courier-Journal says:

The rising generation has had the story of A. T. Stewart, Vanderbilt, Oakes Ames, Jim Fisk, Jay Gould and others of this class repeated in its ears so often of late, that it is no wonder if many young men were beginning to believe that the accumulation of wealth is the main object of life, and the most prominent pursuit which a man can follow. Some will probably laugh at what they consider the over-scrupulousness of Mr. Chase in refusing to take advantage of his unrivaled opportunities for amassing wealth and bequeathing to his children the most magnificent estate in America. We are glad to believe that there are others among the ambitious and aspiring who will stop to study seriously and thoughtfully the good example of integrity and self-control which has been given to history in the person of the lamented Chief Justice.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

TUESDAY EVENING, May 27, 1873.

Gold in New York to-day, 118½.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 85 buying; 86 selling.

Gold bars are quotable at 900 fine.

Wheat in Liverpool—Average California, 12s 3d@12s 4d; club, 12s 6d.

It is a fact not generally understood that the act of February 12, 1873, has entirely changed the character of all the gold coins in the United States in actual use. The law provides that gold coins shall be a legal tender in all payments at their nominal value, when not more than one-fourth of a grain less than the coined weight. If they are more depreciated than that, they are to be received only at their actual value. The Treasury will, however, receive them at their nominal value if not depreciated more than one-half of one per cent. This regulation is more liberal than the first; for there, in order to be a legal tender, a gold coin must not have lost more than one-tenth of one per cent. In ordinary business matters this will create little practical difficulty; but in the payment of large sums in gold coin, the loss in many instances will be not less than $1,000 in $100,000.

Money at the Principal Centers.

The Boston Statesman, in commenting on the encouraging tendencies toward greater ease in financial affairs, says:

There is considerable ground for congratulation in regard to the monetary "situation." In Boston, but little if any complaint is now heard among substantial borrowers. Rates are the same as reported in our last. In New York, the Money market exhibits increased ease. The amount of funds offering for temporary use is in excess of current requirements, and rates of interest are in favor of the borrowers. Call loans are readily obtained to any reasonable amount upon prime securities at 6@7 per cent. First class commercial paper is in active demand from dealers at 8@10 per cent per annum. At Cincinnati, the banks are in a position to discount the greater portion of the approved paper presented, and no difficulty is experienced in negotiating loans on good names. At Chicago, in all branches of trade and commerce the condition of affairs has experienced a material improvement since the opening of lake navigation, and although Money is still tolerably close, the whole tendency of the loan market is now more encouraging for borrowers than for months past. Indeed, all the prominent banks already report a large increase in their supply of loanable funds.

The Cotton Crop.

The New Orleans Picayune says of the cotton crop:

The present spring has been very unfavorable for the cotton crop, beyond doubt. The fine weather which prevailed after February 1st, enabled planters to make an early start and the planting was generally finished with exceptional rapidity. The spring opened warm, and the plants came up early and well. Of late, however, the coldest weather known for many years, at this season, has prevailed. Killing frosts have occurred over three-fourths of the Cotton States, and replanting has been rendered necessary over an immense area of country. The plants which have not been absolutely killed, have been severely injured, and will be backward and sickly for some time.

There are supposed to be about 5,000 acres of cotton in cultivation this season in California, but it is yet too early to make any estimate of the result.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The recent rains have improved the present prospect of our crops, and there is but little doubt now that the yield will be largely in excess of former years. Transactions are now limited to comparatively small lots, and buyers offer $1 55 per cental.

FLOUR—The stoppage of some of our State mills, for the purpose of renovating, preparatory to commencing work on the next crop, has somewhat reduced the supply, but prices, though firm, are not advanced, but favor the seller, at $5 per barrel for fancy brands, $4@4 50 for outside and good country brands, and $3 75 for superfine.

OATS—The receipts are light, and prices kept at 50 cents per bushel, with no present indications of an advance. The home demand has slackened since the horse disease has spread; but this may not remain as an operative cause for any great length of time.

HAY—The demand is light, and the best only commands $15 per ton.

FEED—The same cause which has reduced the demand for oats, has enhanced that for chopped feed and bran. We note, however, a fair supply on hand, and prices, though steady, remain at $20 per ton for bran, and $30 for middlings and chops.

BACON—We note a firmer tone to the market, without important change in rates. Of common country cured meats, shoulders are quoted 8½@9 cents per pound, sides 11@12; hams 14@15c. Fancy brands of sugar cured at an advance of 2 and 3 cents on these rates.

BUTTER—As before mentioned, all depends on the quality of the article offered, as prices here range all the way between 10 and 22 cents per pound.

EGGS—We note a continuance of full receipts, and though the home demand remains fair, the price in San Francisco remains at such a low figure as to discourage shipments.

WOOL—The small lots received are generally purchased prior to arrival, or consigned to parties here to sell, and in our market but few transactions have occurred and these on the basis of 20 cents per pound for a good article. The recent rains and cool weather have retarded the work of shearing, hence the small receipts for some days past. Advices from the East show a better feeling in the market, and encourage the hope of better prices.

HIDES—Transactions continue slow and prices are unchanged.

A letter of a recent date from San Francisco to a firm in this city, says: "Owing to the almost entire failure of the growing crop of Broom Corn, the farmers of it have so materially advanced their prices as to render it necessary for us to place before you a new and somewhat advanced price list."

Shipping Intelligence.

A steamer, either the Stevens or California, most probably the former, was reported as coming in over the bar as the Dixie Thompson left Astoria this morning.

The barkentine Jane A. Falkinburg is taking on a quantity of salmon at Astoria. She will shortly go to sea.

LYON'S
KATHAIRON

Only 50 Cents per Bottle.

It promotes the GROWTH, PRESERVES the COLOR, and increases the Vigor and BEAUTY of the HAIR.

OVER THIRTY YEARS AGO LYON'S KATHAIRON FOR THE HAIR was first placed in the market by Professor E. Thomas Lyon, a graduate of Princeton College. The name is derived from the Greek "KATHRO," signifying to cleanse, purify, rejuvenate, or restore. The favor it has received, and the popularity it has obtained, is unprecedented and incredible. It increases the GROWTH and BEAUTY of the HAIR. It is a delightful dressing. It eradicates dandruff. It prevents the Hair from turning gray. It keeps the head cool, and gives the hair a rich, soft, glossy appearance. It is the SAME in QUANTITY and QUALITY as it was over a QUARTER of a CENTURY AGO, and is sold by all Druggists and Country Stores at only 50 Cents per Bottle.

Woman's Glory is Her Hair.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written agreement, binding him if to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin, in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union.

All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen and became too lazy too work at their trades. Some are tin-smiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his offices of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco, Post Office Box 1,957.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER.

Consultations FREE.

☞Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.
